

Application Support at IBM - Internship with French language (3 months for beginning)

IBM is opening 3 Internship Positions for its Premium client. Available for passionate Computer Science students (JAVA, SQL technologies). The position is full time and its dedicated to students that are in 3rd and 4 year of studying or Master students.

For this project, IBM provides complete App. Development and App. Maintenance services for business partners.

Technical solution includes development, testing and SW deployment.

Activity : new development

Responsibilities:

Being an intern for Application support you will :

- Work together with the best team of JAVA developers, using the most up to date technologies in creating applications for several Industries
- Do functional support for specific tools
- Will learn ITIL processes with focus on Incident Management, Change Management, and Problem Resolution
- Have the chance to be exposed to a very well structured source code. The code is clear and intelligible.
- Improve your SQL DB knowledge
- Interact with IBM in-house technologies

We are using:

- Java EE
- Oracle DB (SQL and PL/SQL)
- Unix/KSH

We want colleagues

- Passionate about IT
- Able to work with SQL, ETL (Informatica) Java (basics) and Unix/KSH
- French language knowledge is mandatory (medium – advanced)

Nice to have:

- Self-organization and high motivation
- Good communication skills -- direct contact with remote teams
- ETL (Informatica) knowledge

As an IBM-er You will work at our offices in the City Business Centre Timisoara, Coriolan Bredeceanu Street, 10. Positive work Environment; free German courses ; free French courses; flexible working hours, plus other benefits.

Please contact Dragos Covaci for more information at 0732 014 956 or at dragos.covaci@ro.ibm.com.

IBM is the world leader in IT services and consulting, serving customers in over 180 countries. IBM's solutions and services span all major industries, including financial services, healthcare, government, automotive, telecommunications and education, among others. It is the diversity and breadth of our portfolio - spanning hardware, software, services, research, financing and technology - that uniquely separates IBM from other companies in the IT industry.